Having professional photos taken of your home will set you apart from other listings.

Just-listed postcards can attract potential buyers by showcasing your property, while professionally designed flyers highlight your home's best features to capture interest.

Open houses are a great way to get potential buyers through your door!

I will leverage my network of agents to spread the word about your home. They might have the perfect buyer ready and waiting!

SHOWINGS

HOW TO PREPARE & WHAT TO EXPECT

It's important to keep your home in show-ready condition, so it is more attractive to potential buyers. Below is a checklist of things that need to be done before a showing to ensure your home is ready to go!

- Make all beds.
- Empty all garbage cans and take trash out.
- Wipe down countertops and put all dishes in dishwasher.
- Put out your nice towels.
- Pick up all toys and personal items.
- Vacuum all carpets and rugs.
- Sweep all hard surface floors and mop (if time).
- Wipe down major appliances.
- Wipe down all glass and mirrored surfaces.
- Check to make sure all light bulbs are working and replace any that are out.
- Remove pets and their items from the house; clean litter boxes and pet areas.
- Put all clutter in a laundry basket and put in your car.
- Turn on all lights before a showing.

WHAT TO EXPECT FOR A SHOWING

Flexibility is key to successful showings. I'll coordinate private showings and an open house to attract buyers. To make the process seamless, keep a daily checklist ready for last-minute showings and relocate pets to help buyers envision themselves in the space. For the best results, it's important that you aren't present during showings.

SHOWING FEEDBACK

Collecting feedback from potential buyers is essential for understanding market perceptions and improving your home's appeal. I will keep you informed with regular updates, allowing us to address concerns and highlight your property's strengths collaboratively. This proactive approach helps attract serious buyers and accelerates the selling process.

MAKE SURE TO DISCLOSE ANY KNOWN ISSUES WITH THE HOME TO AVOID LEGAL COMPLICATIONS LATER ON.

OFFERS & NEGOTIATION

Negotiation is key to refining the deal until it works for everyone. Being prepared can help you achieve a favorable outcome. Depending on the market, multiple offers may come in if your home is priced right. I'll help you review and choose the best offer.

When an offer comes in, you have three main options to consider.

ACCEPT THE OFFER

If the offer meets your expectations, you can accept it as is. This moves you directly to the next phase of the transaction process.

NEGOTIATE (MAKE A COUNTEROFFER)

If the offer is close but not quite what you hoped for, you can propose a counteroffer.

This initiates a negotiation process where both parties make concessions to reach an agreement. Be prepared for the possibility of several rounds of back-and-forth before settling on mutually agreeable terms.

REJECT THE OFFER

If the offer is far from your expectations, you have the right to reject it outright. However, it's often beneficial to provide feedback through your agent to help the buyer understand your position, potentially leading to a better subsequent offer.

THE INSPECTION

HOW LONG DOES A BUYER HAVE TO GET AN INSPECTION DONE?

After an offer is accepted, the buyer typically has 7 to 14 days to conduct inspections, as specified in the purchase agreement's "inspection contingency period" or "due diligence period." During this time, the buyer schedules and completes inspections, reviews the findings, and can request repairs or adjustments.

WHAT DO I HAVE TO FIX?

Common repairs include:

- Safety Issues
- Building Code Violations
- Lender Requirements
- Negotiated Repairs
- Termite Damage

The extent of repairs depends on market conditions and negotiations, with more expected in a buyer's market and fewer in a seller's market.

THE APPRAISAL

An appraisal is a professional assessment of a property's market value conducted by a licensed appraiser. This is a crucial step in the home buying and selling process to ensure the property's value aligns with the agreed-upon purchase price.

Potential Outcomes when the appraisal comes in:

APPRAISAL AT OR ABOVE OFFER PRICE

The transaction proceeds as planned and move towards closing.

APPRAISAL BELOW OFFER PRICE

Negotiate:
Lower the sale price to the appraised value.

Buyer Pays Difference:
The buyer can choose to cover the gap between the offer and the appraisal.

CHALLENGE THE APPRAISAL

Provide additional comparables to justify a higher value.

CANCEL THE SALE

If an agreement can't be reached, the sale may fall through.

THE CLOSING

This is the final step in the selling process. It is the process where ownership of a property is legally transferred from the seller to the buyer. Here's what typically happens during a closing:

- 1 Final Review And Signing Of Documents
- 2 Payment Of Fees And Closing Costs
- 3 Recording Of The Deed
- 4 Disbursement Of Funds
- 5 Exchange Of Keys And Possession

WHAT TO BRING TO A CLOSING

- Driver's License or other government-issued photo ID.
- Wire transfer or certified check for the required closing funds as directed by the title or escrow company.
- Bring keys and garage door openers with you. The buyer receives the home keys depending on contract terms.

REMEMBER TO CANCEL OR TRANSFER YOUR UTILITIES AND FORWARD YOUR ADDRESS BEFORE THE POSSESSION DATE TO AVOID ANY ISSUES.

SELLER'S FAQ

HOW DOES MY AGENT GET PAID?

A seller's agent is paid through a commission, which is a percentage of the home's final selling price. Commission rates can vary.

HOW LONG DOES IT TYPICALLY TAKE TO SELL A HOME?

The time it takes to sell a home can vary widely depending on the local market conditions, the price of the home, its condition, and how well it is marketed. Homes can take anywhere from a few days to several months to sell.

WHAT COSTS ARE INVOLVED IN SELLING A HOME?

Costs involved in selling a home can include real estate agent commissions, closing costs, home repairs and improvements, staging costs, potential concessions to the buyer, and any outstanding mortgage balance.

DO I NEED TO MAKE REPAIRS BEFORE SELLING MY HOME?

While not always necessary, making repairs can make your home more attractive to buyers and potentially increase its value. Focus on major issues, safety concerns, and cosmetic updates that can enhance curb appeal and the home's overall presentation.

WHAT DOES PENDING MEAN?

When a property is listed as "pending," it means that the seller has accepted an offer from a buyer, and both parties are working through the final stages (contingencies, inspections, appraisals, and financing) of the transaction.

WHAT IS A CONTINGENCY?

A contingency is a condition or requirement that must be met for the sale to proceed. If the contingency is not satisfied, the buyer or seller can void the contract. Contingencies protect both parties by ensuring that certain conditions are fulfilled before the transaction is finalized.

COMMON TYPES OF CONTINGENCIES

Inspection Contingency: Allows the buyer to have the home inspected and negotiate repairs or cancel the contract if significant issues are found.

Appraisal Contingency: Ensures the property appraises for at least the purchase price, protecting the buyer and their lender from overpaying.

Financing Contingency: Gives the buyer time to secure a mortgage. If they can't get financing, they can cancel the contract.

Sale of Current Home Contingency: The buyer's purchase depends on selling their current home first.

Title Contingency: Ensures the seller can provide a clear title to the property.

WHAT IS THE MLS?

The Multiple Listing Service (MLS) is a comprehensive database used by real estate brokers to share information about properties for sale.
